We at Beeson take the ministry of the Word and Christian discipleship with the utmost seriousness. We seek to love the Lord with all our heart, soul, mind and strength. We also seek to love all our neighbors as ourselves. It is difficult to love those of whom we know little. So we work hard on the knowledge of God and the world. We study the Bible in Hebrew and Greek, trusting fully in its truthfulness and power to save and sanctify. We dig deeply into its doctrines. We immerse ourselves in history and contemporary society. We hone our ministry skills in a nurturing community of church-loving servants of the Lord and his people both at home and around the world. We worship together, pray together and serve others together. Along the way, we share fellowship and even play together.

I am delighted to be serving as our school’s new dean. The future is bright at Beeson. By God’s grace, we enjoy a rich heritage of faithfulness: to Christ, the Bible and the reign of God in the world. But He is still at work among us, equipping us for even more fruitfulness ahead. Please pray with me that we will ever glorify God in all we think, do and say, remaining true to the gospel, the Bible and the church.

Beeson Divinity School trains men and women for a lifetime of faithful service to the church.

We do this by teaching biblical languages and biblical theology, history and doctrine, preaching, spiritual formation, and pastoral ministry courses that equip you to minister to the church and preach the gospel throughout the world. You will learn to serve God’s people by studying and preaching the Bible, integrating the history and theology of the church throughout the centuries, and serving in local and cross-cultural ministry settings.
“As a Presbyterian, studying theology at an evangelical, interdenominational seminary allows me to fully embrace the theology and practice of my church tradition, while also continually reminding me that the kingdom of God is bigger than my own tradition. I have therefore become a better Presbyterian and a better ecumenist at the same time. These are only a few of the many precious gifts I have received while at Beeson.”

—Dylan Evans, M.Div. student

20 different Protestant denominations represented

11 denominations represented on the faculty

7 endowed chairs, including

- Anglican Chair
- Methodist Chair
- Presbyterian Chair
- Billy Graham Chair of Evangelism
- Charles T. Carter Baptist Chair
Beeson Divinity School was founded to represent the entirety of the orthodox Christian church. Our faculty and student body are Protestant Christian, evangelical and interdenominational. You will learn in community with students, faculty and staff who represent more than 20 different evangelical denominations, but who together confess the orthodox tenets of the Christian faith and are passionate about the unity and witness of the church. The faculty teaches elective courses that help students learn their own and others’ ecclesial traditions. The divinity school joyfully expresses this identity and ethos within the context of a larger Christian university.

“Beeson uniquely blends interdenominational and evangelical Christianity with historic orthodoxy and the tenets of the great Protestant Reformation as well as an ambience of worship and mentored fellowship in small groups.”

—Rev. Dr. David Bowman Riker, former president, Equatorial Baptist Theological Seminary, Belém, Brazil, M.Div.
“I believe.”

The Beeson community confesses the Apostles’ Creed, seeking to know and live the faith once for all delivered to the saints.
We believe in the One Triune God of holiness and love: Father, Son and Holy Spirit. We are committed to the great tradition of historic Christian orthodoxy. Therefore, we believe in the central doctrine of justification by grace through faith, the tenet by which the church either stands or falls. We also believe that the good news of God’s gracious salvation in Christ is clearly taught in God’s written Word, the Bible. Its full inspiration and total truthfulness we confess, and to its authority we submit. This rich core of commitments forms the basis of our unity as a theological, interdenominational community centered on Jesus Christ.

COMMUNITY WORSHIP
We meet as a community of faith and learning each Tuesday during the semester to worship God in Andrew Gerow Hodges Chapel. Each semester we focus our chapel services on a specific theme. Some of our past themes include: “Knowing God through the Psalms,” “Prayer: The Church’s Banquet,” and “Jesus Christ: Abundant Life.”

ENDOWED LECTURES
We offer three endowed annual lectureships (Biblical Studies Lectures, Reformation Heritage Lectures and William E. Conger Jr. Lectures on Biblical Preaching) in order to enrich the spiritual life of our community and enhance the educational experience of our students.

“One thing that was very important for me in choosing a seminary was to find a seminary committed to Scripture and to the foundational beliefs of the Christian church throughout its history. At Beeson, the confessions in the historic Apostles’ Creed unite our community across denominational lines, and a commitment to gospel truth is taught and lived out daily, from our courses to community worship to our fellowship and life together.

—Anna Russell, M.Div. student
We believe strongly that a community-oriented, full-time and personal environment offers the best opportunity to train for a lifetime of faithful ministry.

“Beeson has not just shown me love, it has shown me Christ, continually pointing me toward him. I can say that I have learned as much from the example and love of students and teachers as I have in the fantastic classes.”

—Yannick Christos-Wahab, Beeson alum

STUDENT SERVICES
Your holistic development at Beeson is enhanced through weekly faculty-led mentor groups, extracurricular events, counseling resources and student advocacy. The Student Government Association (SGA) promotes student interests in the decision-making process at Beeson Divinity School. SGA officers sponsor various activities, such as intramurals, luncheons with professors and other social and educational events for the student body.

WOMEN’S THEOLOGICAL COLLOQUIUM
The Women’s Theological Colloquium encourages and prayerfully supports female students at Beeson. The fellowship meets several times each semester and occasionally welcomes special guests who discuss their experiences and roles in ministry leadership. Meetings include sharing a meal and a time of prayer.

INTERCESSORY PRAYER ROOM
Beeson’s Prayer Room is dedicated to engaging in the ministry of prayer for others. The Beeson community is invited to join in this pastoral ministry of soul care. Each volunteer commits to a half-hour, hour or longer session once a week in the Prayer Room.

BEESON WIVES FELLOWSHIP
The Beeson Wives Fellowship provides a place for wives to grow and mature together in Christ as they prepare for ministry individually and alongside their husbands. Each wife’s call and seminary journey is different; therefore, the fellowship meets regularly for discussion and a time of prayer. It also invites special speakers and hosts retreats.
We believe training for ministry requires knowledge, skill and wisdom in all the areas below. We believe you must be informed and transformed by God’s Word and Spirit in community. Beeson students commit to serious, full-time study. We do not offer distance learning because we believe the best training for personal ministry of the gospel takes place in a personal environment.

BIBLICAL LANGUAGES, BIBLICAL THEOLOGY AND PREACHING
All Master of Divinity students take four semesters each of Greek and Hebrew because we believe learning the original languages helps you study the Bible accurately and comprehensively, giving you tools for a lifetime of biblical and theological study. Beeson also trains our students to preach and teach directly from the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures so that they clearly communicate biblical theology and Christian doctrine in a way that faithfully builds up Christian congregations.

HISTORY AND DOCTRINE
Effective gospel ministry requires knowledge and understanding of Scripture and the church’s doctrine and faith confessed throughout the ages. The history and doctrine curriculum, unique to theological education in America, follows a four-course sequence from the early church to today. Each course focuses on key doctrines, primary texts and formative theologians. Students learn how church history and doctrine fruitfully shape ministry in the present.

SPIRITUAL FORMATION AND PASTORAL MINISTRY
At Beeson, we emphasize spiritual formation as individuals and as a community. We want to see students grow in Christ and love for one another so that they thrive in the joys and trials of real-world ministry. Every student, then, is required to take spiritual formation and pastoral theology courses in order to grow in the knowledge of Christ and in his/her unique ministry calling. Every student also participates in weekly, faculty-led mentor groups. The Beeson community gathers every Tuesday for worship in Hodges Chapel because worship, more than anything, forms us in Christ and for ministry. Together, class time, community worship and mentor groups—all face-to-face in community—challenge and encourage our students to grow in knowledge and love. Students also learn to serve the church through local church internships, which reinforce the integration of head, heart and hands in Christian ministry.
Beeson’s curriculum prepares students for faithful and serious ministry of God’s Word.
The Master of Divinity prepares students for full-time Christian ministry. It is the flagship program of Beeson Divinity School.
Degree Programs

MASTER OF DIVINITY (M.Div.)
The Master of Divinity is the flagship degree of Beeson Divinity School. It combines academic and practical training to prepare students for full-time ministry. This degree offers a balanced curriculum of biblical studies, history and doctrine, spiritual formation and ministry leadership development. The M.Div. consists of 87 hours and typically requires three and a half to four years to complete.

MASTER OF ARTS IN THEOLOGICAL STUDIES (M.A.T.S.)
The Master of Arts in Theological Studies is a general academic degree. It is designed for laypeople who want to broaden and deepen their understanding of the Christian faith and theology. The M.A.T.S. consists of 37 hours and typically requires two years to complete.

JOINT-DEGREE PROGRAMS
The joint-degree programs offered between Beeson Divinity School and five other graduate schools on the Samford University campus allow students to pursue two degrees concurrently and in a reduced amount of time through credit sharing. This makes your divinity degree even more versatile and tailored toward your particular call to ministry. The following joint degrees are currently offered:

- Master of Divinity/Master of Education
- Master of Divinity/Juris Doctorate
- Master of Arts in Theological Studies/Juris Doctorate
- Master of Divinity/Master of Music
- Master of Divinity/Master of Business Administration
- Master of Divinity/Master of Social Work
- Master of Arts in Theological Studies/Master of Social Work

Generally, between six and 12 hours of course work earned toward one degree satisfy the electives of the other degree. The number of transferrable electives varies by program. A student must apply to each school individually to be considered for enrollment. Please see the insert in back pocket for more specific information.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS
The Certificate of Anglican Studies (C.A.S.) helps students deepen in the knowledge of Anglican belief, practice, worship and spirituality.

The Missions Certificate provides students called to cross-cultural missions a rich training ground that combines both classroom and field training.

Certificates are awarded with the successful completion of the M.Div.
Our graduates serve the Lord and his church in various roles and denominational contexts around the globe. We are committed to walking alongside each person, educating, encouraging and equipping them to minister to the body of Christ.

Engaging in the practice of ministry under caring and competent supervision, you will be assisted in clarifying God’s call, gaining or improving ministry skills, growing in God’s grace, and much more. While we encourage you to worship and serve in a local congregation throughout your time at Beeson, most students complete a yearlong Supervised Ministry Practicum (SMP) in the latter half of their degree program. The director of Ministry Leadership Development is available to advise you on these and other vocational matters.

The adventure of discerning how God may best use you and your gifts in ministry begins early in your Beeson studies. The programs for ministry leadership development and ministry placement are closely linked at Beeson, providing students and alumni with highly personalized assistance in seeking and securing positions of service.

PLACEMENT SERVICES

Placement Services regularly hosts ministry opportunity events, allowing students to make vital connections with ministry leaders and to explore possibilities for present and future service. As a result of these and other initiatives, nine out of 10 Beeson graduates (2010-14) who have actively sought ministry-related positions are engaged in positions of ministry leadership within one year following graduation.

“I realize the ministry pathways that people walk after school are varied, but I’ll just say this—I served in my first post-graduation position because of a connection with a Beeson alumnus, and currently I serve underneath another Beeson alumnus. I’m grateful for both the friendships that I made while I was in the M.Div. program and for the wider connections with Beeson alumni upon graduation.”

—Blake Jenkins, M.Div., Minister to College Students, Dawson Memorial Baptist Church, Homewood, Alabama

90% of Beeson graduates (2010-14) who have actively sought ministry-related positions are engaged in positions of ministry leadership within one year following graduation.
Otis Dion Culliver, M.Div., Pastor, Tabernacle Baptist Church, Selma, Alabama

Rev. Chris Brooks, M.Div., Kairos Pastor, Brentwood Baptist Church, Nashville, Tennessee

Suzanne Simmons, M.Div., PRN Chaplain, University of Alabama in Birmingham Hospital
Our vision is to prepare missional students who intentionally participate in Kingdom expansion. We send equipped divinity students into every part of the world and invite global Christians into our community. The Global Center offers students focused missions curriculum, special events and speakers, resources for world missions participation and prayer and cross-cultural ministry opportunities. Through Cross-Cultural Ministry Practicums, M.Div. students train for at least two weeks with ministry mentors who provide holistic, long-term, gospel-centered ministry in strategic locations in the U.S. and around the globe. We also provide prayer support for more than 40 divinity school alumni serving Christ internationally.

“I am more than 6,000 miles from my home in Ghana. Having the opportunity to work with the Global Center has been such a blessing. I was introduced to wonderful people that helped me know that I am not here alone in my quest to help God’s plan. At the Global Center, we all work together to share Jesus through missions.”

—Okai Kwabena, M.Div. student
Our vision is to prepare missional students who intentionally participate in Kingdom expansion.

CROSS-CULTURAL MINISTRY PRACTICUMS
All M.Div. students complete a two-week-minimum, cross-cultural immersion experience overseen by the Global Center. Certificate students participate in a minimum six-week experience. Beeson has partners both in the United States and around the world with mentors who oversee students. Ministry partners are in places such as the Czech Republic, Liberia, Malaysia, Ecuador, Mexico, the Middle East and Brooklyn, New York.

GLOBAL VOICES
Global Voices is a weekly event in which students, alumni and special guests share their cross-cultural ministry experiences. They also discuss the global church, global needs and issues pertinent in missions today. Complimentary lunch is included.

GO GLOBAL AND WORLD CHRISTIANITY FOCUS WEEK
During the fall semester, the Go Global Missions Emphasis allows students to consider their involvement in global missions through interacting with guest speakers and representatives of various missions agencies. In the spring during the World Christianity Focus Week, students are able to hear and interact with a leader in the world Christian movement and modern scholarship about the state of the church worldwide.

INTERNATIONAL LUNCH CLUB
Beeson students meet every other week over lunch with international university students to develop cross-cultural friendships through English conversation and cultural exchange. Complimentary lunch is included.

Beeson Divinity School sits at the heart of Samford University—Alabama’s top-ranked private university. Samford was founded in 1841 and has an enrollment of over 5,600 students (2,000+ graduate and professional students) representing 44 states and 30 countries. Samford is comprised of 10 academic schools: arts, arts and sciences, business, divinity, education, health professions, law, nursing, pharmacy and public health. As part of the larger Samford University community, students have access to many resources, including an excellent library, sporting and art events, health services, workout facilities and community service opportunities.
Welcome to Birmingham

Beeson Divinity School is located in Birmingham, Alabama, the largest city in the state with a population of about one million people in a seven-county area.

It’s a new day in Birmingham. Today, there is a shared vision and passion among city and church leaders for a unified, forward-moving city that represents the many cultures and traditions of its residents. The city boasts a revitalized urban center, a nationally recognized food and art scene, and, most importantly, new areas of church and parachurch ministry. In fact, many of the new church plants in Birmingham’s city center are pastored and led by Beeson alumni.
